Brother, did you say that things have changed? Not too much. The buildings are much the same. The trees have grown a little taller, a little thicker. The familiar paths are worn along the ways we shouldn't go; the campus we know as well as the palms of our hands. It's just that our numbers have increased until at times we may look like Grand Central Station on a day before the Christmas holiday.

Through the years we've been apt to throw our chests out and brag of our versatility. School spirit has helped us make our publications first place winners; our leadership has inspired us at college and in business. We can hold our own in good sportsmanship. But we are just high school kids with the usual fads and fancies.

Come on then and pass in review through the high school all of us know so well.

Abington High School's memories extend back to the year 1888, when a two-year high school was opened in a new elementary school — now the Administration Building — that had been built on Boucher's farm. Under the tutelage of teaching Principal Ambrose L. Custer, Jennie McMahon and Annie Tomlinson (later Mrs. Paul Knight) were the first to graduate from this new school. The next year four boys and one girl — Charles A. Ambler, John Blake, Eloise Leland, John Myers, George Tomlinson — comprised the senior class. Until 1901, when the course was lengthened to three years, there were never more than six graduates a year. In 1891, 1902, and 1914, there were no classes at all.

But by 1918, the enrollment had increased enough for the graduating class to number fifty-four. These early years at Abington featured a fifteen-minute morning and afternoon recess. Then, too, Mrs. Laura B. Jones, a township music teacher, rode from school to school on her bicycle.

In 1908 the original unit of the present senior high school was constructed on the site of an apple orchard whose trees were once sold to be made into doorknobs. At this time the county superintendent with the assistance of outside teachers conducted final exams. In these years the school board provided students with free tickets for the York Road trolley.

Ten years later the first addition to the original senior high unit was made. The faculty increased to ten, with two of these ten still teaching at Abington — Miss Lilian J. Reichard and Miles B. Messinger.

Increasing enrollment made more additions to the school necessary in 1923 and 1926. Student Council had its beginnings in the year 1927 with the formation of the Boys' Council. The French Club Dance and Community Night began in 1928. Mid-year commencements, which began in 1929, did not end until January 1945.

The next decade brought the construction of the household arts cottage in 1932. In 1937 the whole school made weekly radio broadcasts.

Abington's Golden Anniversary Yearbook of '38 highlighted Boys' and Girls' Etiquette Clubs, and many other popular organizations. Boys outnumbered girls on the cheerleading squad, three to two. In February of this year, Abington became a three-year high school, following six years spent in elementary school and three years in junior high.

Beginning another tradition, the Latin Club staged its first Turnabout Dance in November 1938.

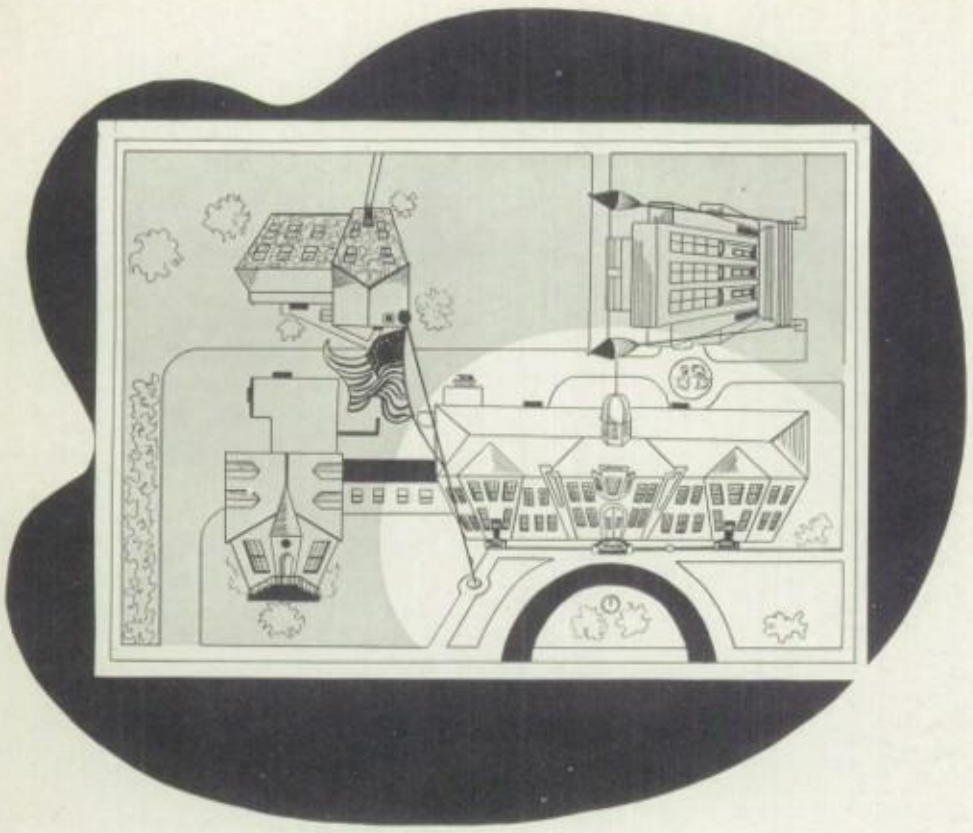
The following year witnessed the installation of a $2000 Hammond electric organ in the high school and the construction of six shops — electric, wood, machine, auto, print, and industrial arts.

Ground-breaking ceremonies for the construction of a new gymnasium took place in 1940, with the building ready for use in September 1941.

During World War II, Abington showed its patriotism in several ways. In February 1943, all clubs were converted to groups working specifically for war and defense purposes. That same year the school sold enough "E" bonds to purchase a P-51 Mustang plane for Uncle Sam. Receiving the privilege of naming the plane, students christened it The Galloping Ghost of Abington Hi.

Nine years later, war hatreds were forgotten when Abington's affiliation committee brought Christa Gaedeke, from Lili Braun Schule in Berlin, to spend a year at Abington.

As Abington High looks forward to a new life in a new building, we are confident that this history will continue to enrich the school's tradition.



School Spirit

. . . that pervading influence which instills an energy, an enthusiasm which nothing else can do . . . that burning ardor, that dash, that fire at football games . . . that pitching in and helping with a dance, a fund, a drive . . . moreover, that genuine pride we feel when one of our schoolmates is recognized by the community . . . that something which helps us to grow into better citizens . . . that thrill we get when we pause from our own singing to hear the whole student body sing the Alma Mater . . . these are only manifestations . . . we call it School Spirit . . . Abington has it a plenty . . . it is eternal.

School Spirit . . . Strengthens

Barbara Walls, Richard Lowrey, Nancy Staudinger, Carl Archer, Janet Spence and Cynthia Scholly — members of Miss Cathell's Honors English class — confer on their first semester term papers.

Walter Pickwell explains the mysteries of spheres and spherical triangles to William Owen and William Gomberg of Mr. Woodruff's Solid Geometry class.

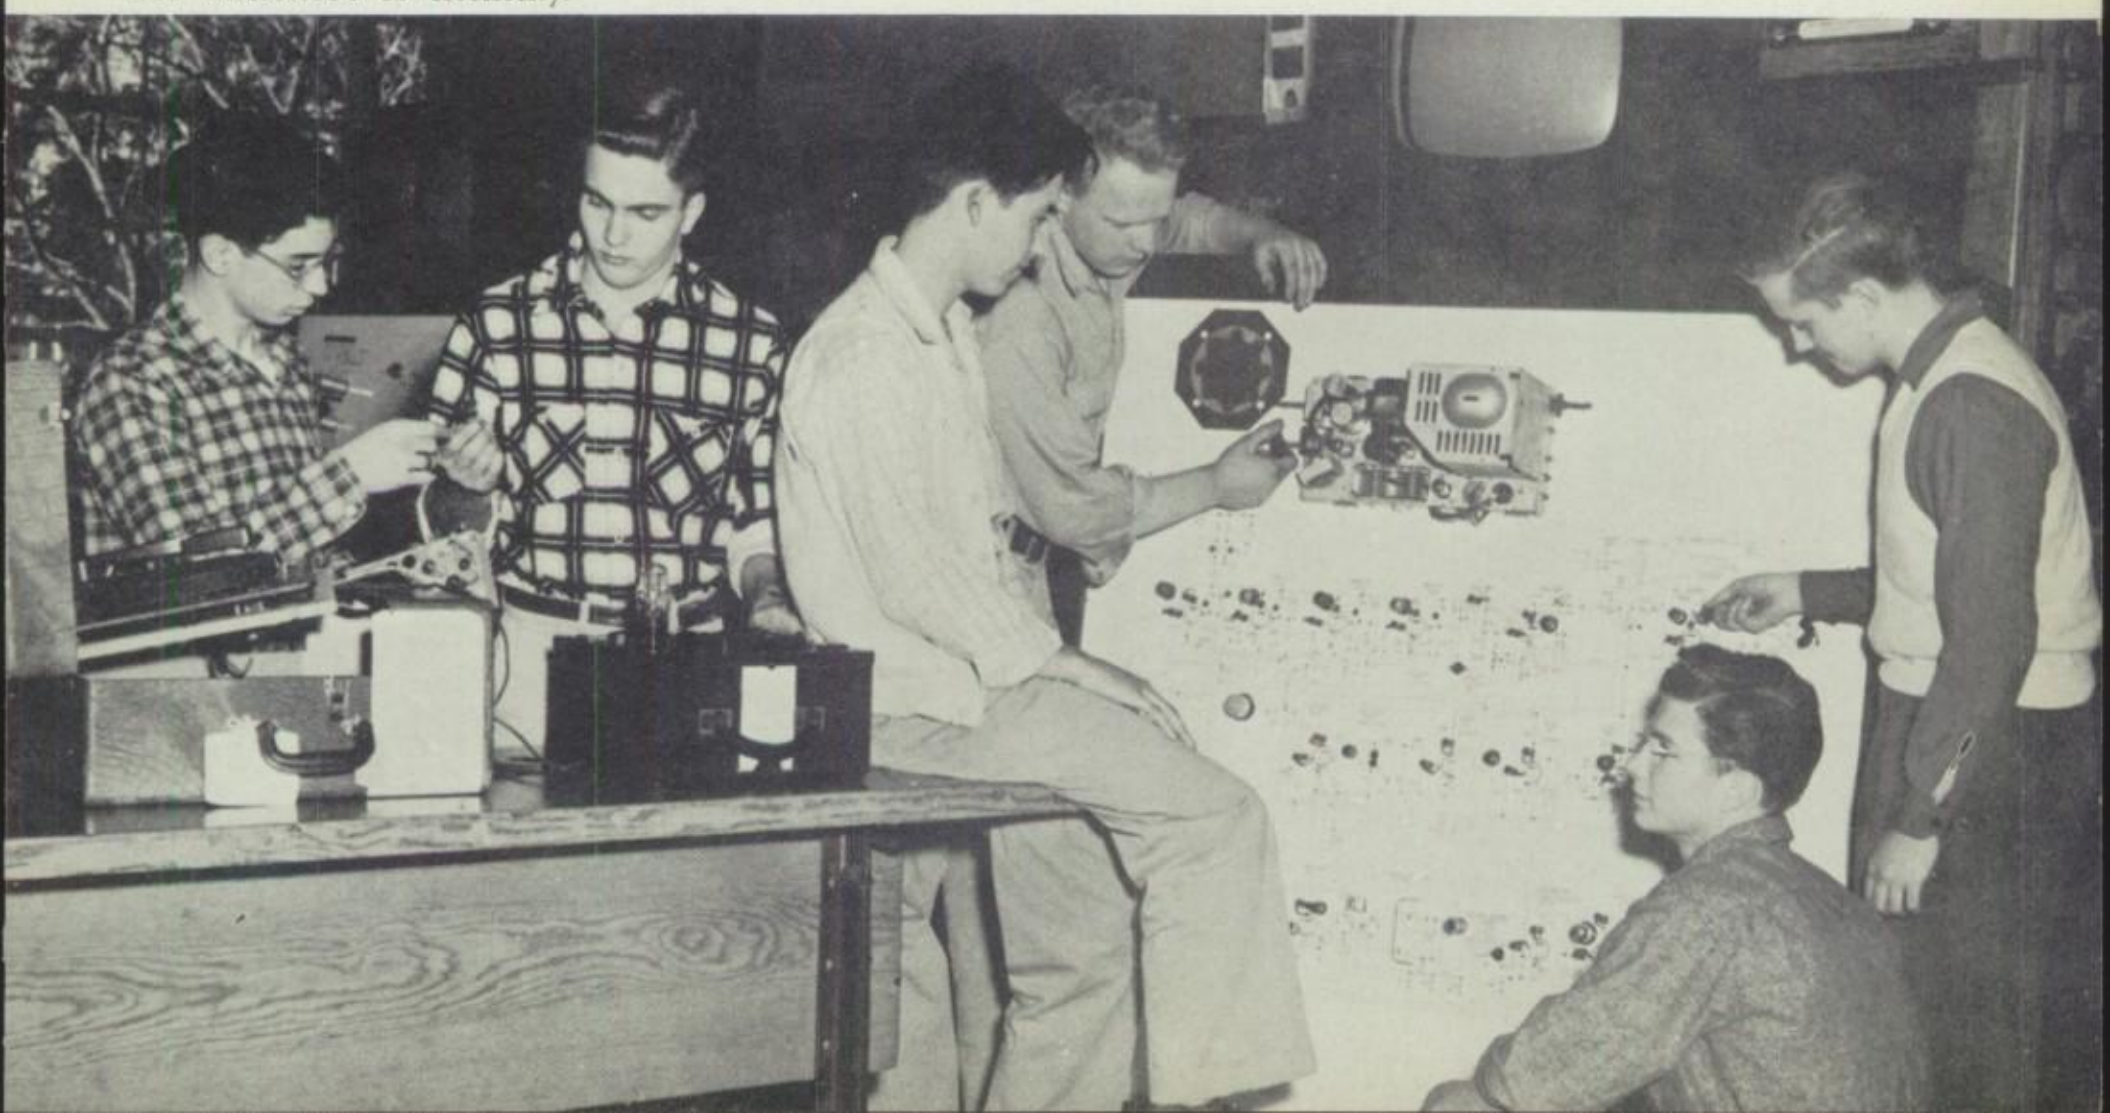
Friendships, Old and New

Gail Pfahler, ably assisted by Donald Scanlin, tests her brake reaction time.

J. Cherry, R. Mullan, E. Snyder, D. Thompson, R. McMahon, B. Dix, E. Thiel and B. Bitting show practical application of the theories of chemistry by experimenting in the laboratory.

Andrew DeMarco, Richard Schmauk, Arthur Bergmann, Ernst Mueller, Leonard Taylor, and John Rupp learn the why's and wherefore's of electricity.



School Spirit . . . Promotes

There's excitement in the air — old friends, new acquaintances, and sponsors meet to make this occasion a memorable one. Delegates register on Thursday before being whisked off to be guests in the homes of AHS students.

October 15! "Hazel" makes the banquet at Casa Conti an evening long to be remembered.

Leadership Among P.A.S.C'ers

State officers — Karen Peterson, treasurer; Mary Ann Smalley, second vice-president; Gordon Biddle, president; and John Hussey, vice-president; plan the Convention.

School Spirit . . . Adds Zest

Ruth Huss, Margie Saylor, Barbara Ulmer, Carmela Galluccio, Jeanne Mahon planned a perfect evening for the Latin Club's Fontalia on November 12.

Ronnie Zimmerman crowns Norma Vickers Queen of the Vocational Club's Valentine Dance.

At the Freundschaft Tanz, Marliese Braitinger, Frank Devlin, Frances Miller, Bill Owen and Bill Malone greet chaperones Mr. and Mrs. Supplee, who were hosts to Christa Gaedeke last year.

Loyal rooters breathlessly await the kick-off at the Cheltenham game.

To Dances and Pep Rallies

"May the better team win," agree Walt Pickwell, captain of the soccer team, and Lower Merion's co-captains.

Robin Roberts, popular Phillies hurler, gives Abington a brief treat at the Cheltenham pep rally.

School Spirit . . . Evokes

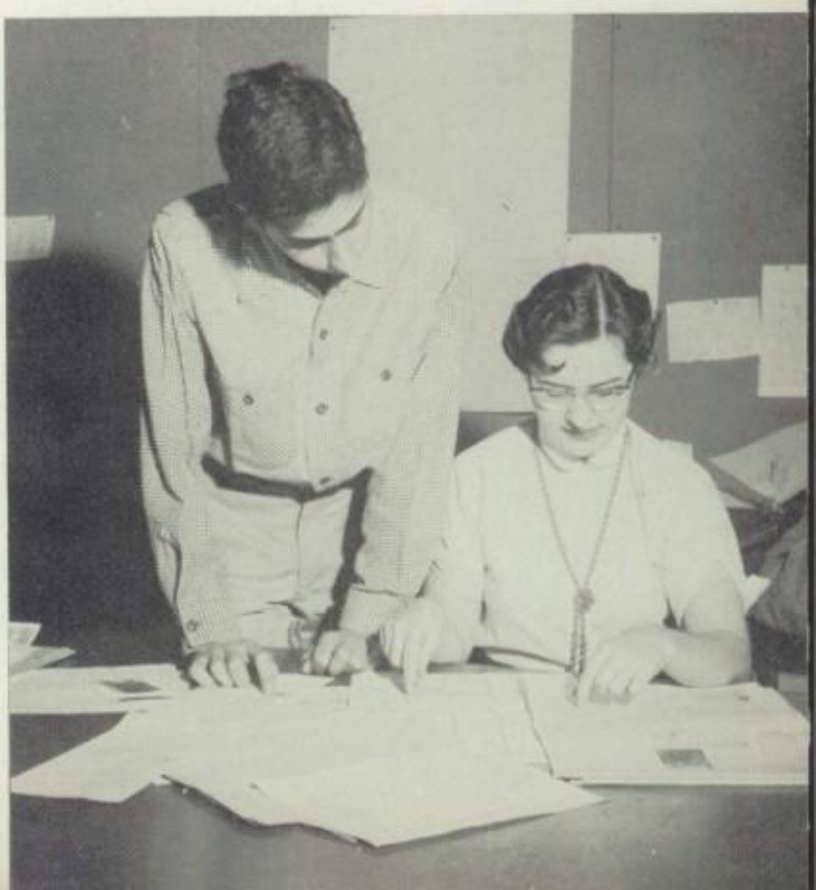
John Bartley poses with the handsome trophy he won in the Model Car Competition sponsored by the Fisher Body Corporation.

Geoffrey Fosbrook, a very effective narrator, did an excellent job on Mr. Gottshall's lovely Christmas program.

Arlene Arleth, that talented singing cowgirl, demonstrates her outstanding abilities as a guitarist.

Nancy Burger busily wraps a gay Christmas package for someone at Christ Home as the students prepare for their annual visit.

Norma Vickers, a gal who swings a mean paint brush, made this poster for the Student Council 60+.



Arlene Gilbert and Jon Kleinbard look over and make corrections on the proof of the Abingtonian.

Conscientious Performance

Allan Smith won the American Legion Oratorical contest with his usual excellent speaking ability.

Walter Tappert states his views on Junior Town Meeting of the Air on the topic, "The school year should be lengthened."

Seated: Mrs. Helen L. Shaffer, Mrs. Grace A. Niblock, Mrs. Jennie Neely, and Mrs. Vallee W. Niblock. Standing: Mr. E. Raymond Ambler, Mr. Albert B. Shaffer, and Mr. Daniel Neely.

Loyal Alumni Cherish Alma Mater

Mrs. Albert B. Shaffer (nee Helen E. Lefferts) attended Abington Schools from 1896 to 1906.

At the commencement exercises for the three graduates of the class of 1906 were addresses by the valedictorian, the salutatorian and class historian, selected according to the highest rating in the class.

My entire family, including my two brothers and our three children, graduated from Abington High School. All of the grandchildren are attending the Abington Schools at the present time.

I salute the Class of "55" as a member of the Alumni Association.

Mrs. Albert B. Shaffer

Mr. Albert B. Shaffer, who attended Abington Schools from 1891 to 1901, graduated from the "Old Brown Stone Building" which was built in 1888.

At that time the High School consisted of one classroom which contained three classes taught by one teacher (Mrs. Bessie Stewart Engard). The major subjects were mental arithmetic, history, geography, etomology, and Latin.

The old bell tolled for the opening exercises, recess, and lunch.

As I look back fifty-four years and see the progress of the Abington High School, it gives me a feeling of great pride for "Old Abington."

Mr. Albert B. Shaffer

My stay as a pupil at Abington High School was of rather short duration owing to the fact that I entered as a junior in March 1900.

Since the Class of 1900 had only four members, I was asked to write and deliver the Class Prophecy.

After another year of hard studying, our Class of 1901, consisting of ten pupils, was ready for the Commencement exercises and our diplomas. I have in my possession now my diploma and our class picture.

I am very proud of Abington High School, the wonderful work that it has done, and the progress that it is making.

Vallee Williams Niblock

Teachers have always been more important to me in any learning situation than buildings, traditions, or activities.

One of them stimulated and trained me in writing. One of them instilled in me such a love for literature and language that she was instrumental in my decision to teach English. And one of them challenged my thinking in a field where I lacked facility and had to work extra hard to earn my grades.

As new teachers replace retired ones, you can still be sure that there will always be someone at Abington who will have made your three years there a valuable part of your life.

David R. Cook

Through the Years— 1894, 1906, 1946 and 1955

Traditions are the common heritage of every high school student in Abington. Every person who has ever danced at the Senior Prom, been a class Thespian, or participated in the Thanksgiving gridiron clash knows what a vivid picture remains in his mind.

As one who adheres to these long-established customs, he feels a part of the school's history. However, looking forward to life in the new high school now under construction, he is helping to establish precedents which shall become a part of that history.

As a part of Abington's traditions, each student is rostered in that course which he and his parents feel best fits his needs.

A student from each of the four courses — the Business Education, the General, the Vocational, and the College Preparatory — has expressed his feelings in his selection.

Students in the Business Education course aside from the mechanical dexterity are taught other invaluable skills such as bookkeeping which will help them secure an even better position in the business world.

Amid a whirl of brief forms and rapid dictation, the future secretaries learn by hard work one of the most difficult of the clerical skills.

Typewriters, adding machines, calculating machines, mimeoscope, and voice writers have their place.

Students in the General Course have the best opportunity for a liberal education.

They have an opportunity to elect from a wide field. Perhaps their choice is band or A Cappella for their own pleasure as well as for the enjoyment of others. Or their choice may be Home Arts or Fine Arts, both of which provide creative outlets for those artistically inclined.

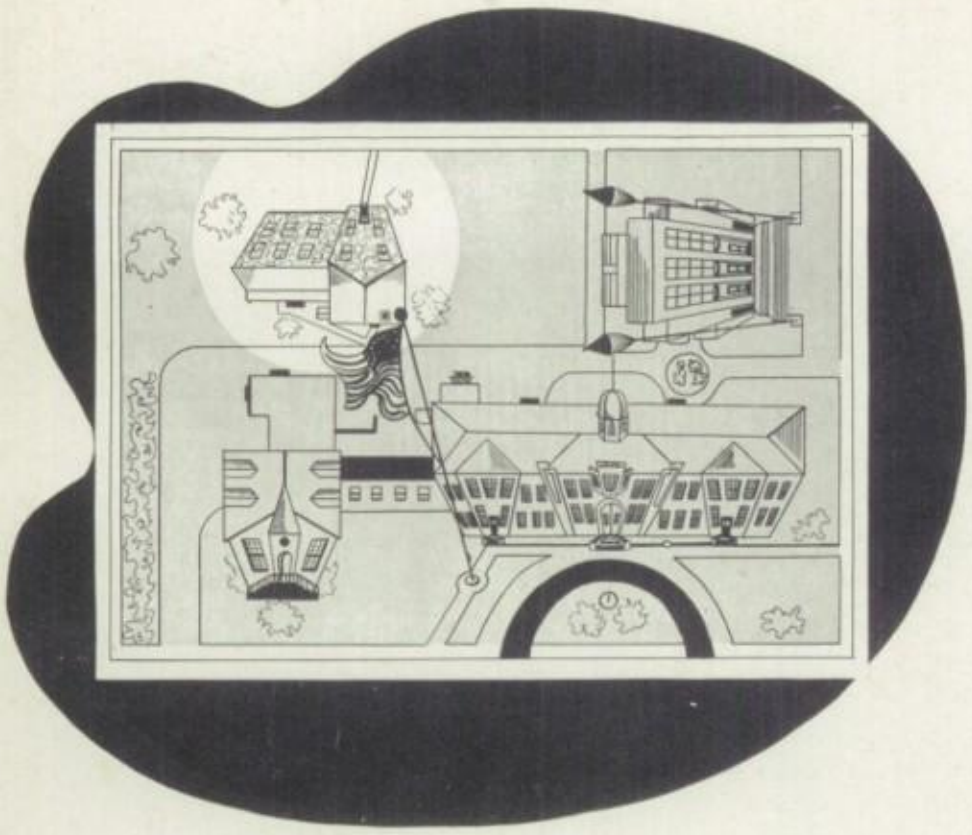
Also one may enroll in this course and have sufficient credits to enter the college of his choice.

Upon graduation, the boy who has selected the Vocational Course, faces a series of steps, or if you will, a ladder of success. Anyone of these steps is complete in itself; the first could be direct entrance into a variety of occupations. Further technical schooling may be the next stage which will result in a career in mechanical engineering or one of the related fields.

In any event the Vocational Course has provided the high school boy with a background of knowledge and experience.

The College Preparatory Course represents the sum of many experiences — the classes we attend, old friendships and the opportunity to make new acquaintances, and finally co-curricular activities — sports, dramatic productions, and after-hours social events. It means developing an interest in democratic living by learning cooperation. Abington represents an aid and a step to a brighter and better future.

Class officers of '55 are Secretary Joan Norman, Treasurer Roland West, Vice-President Walter Pickwell, and President Walter Young, Jr.



Leadership

. . . that dedication to high ideals of profession . . . personal integrity, honor . . . ambitions for us . . . intelligence . . . competence . . . wisdom as legislators . . . righteousness as judges . . . warmth as friends . . . deep-rooted goodness . . . all of which lead to cooperation among selves and with community . . . extra effort to give us a better chance . . . sacrifice . . . encouragement for us to work with others, but not lose our individuality . . . assurance that we shall have the freedom to think . . . our ability to make our mark . . . well-molded characters . . . freedom to smile our way through the gateway to success . . . determination that we shall know and be glad we know.

Administrative Leaders Direct Our Interests and Welfare

Dr. O. H. English, superintendent, gives unstintingly of his efforts to provide the best program for the schools of today and tomorrow.

The School Board representative of the citizens of Abington Township willingly spends many late hours in examining multitudinous details and in planning the general educational policies in order to give Abington students the finest educational opportunities obtainable.

As a result of their careful planning to meet the needs of a community whose population is increasing very rapidly, the Hamilton Avenue Elementary School opened at the beginning of February. Then, too, the new high school, which has been a dream on blue print, is now in the process of becoming a reality on Highland Avenue. This building which is designed to accommodate fifteen hundred or more students promises to be a wonderful asset toward meeting school as well as community needs.

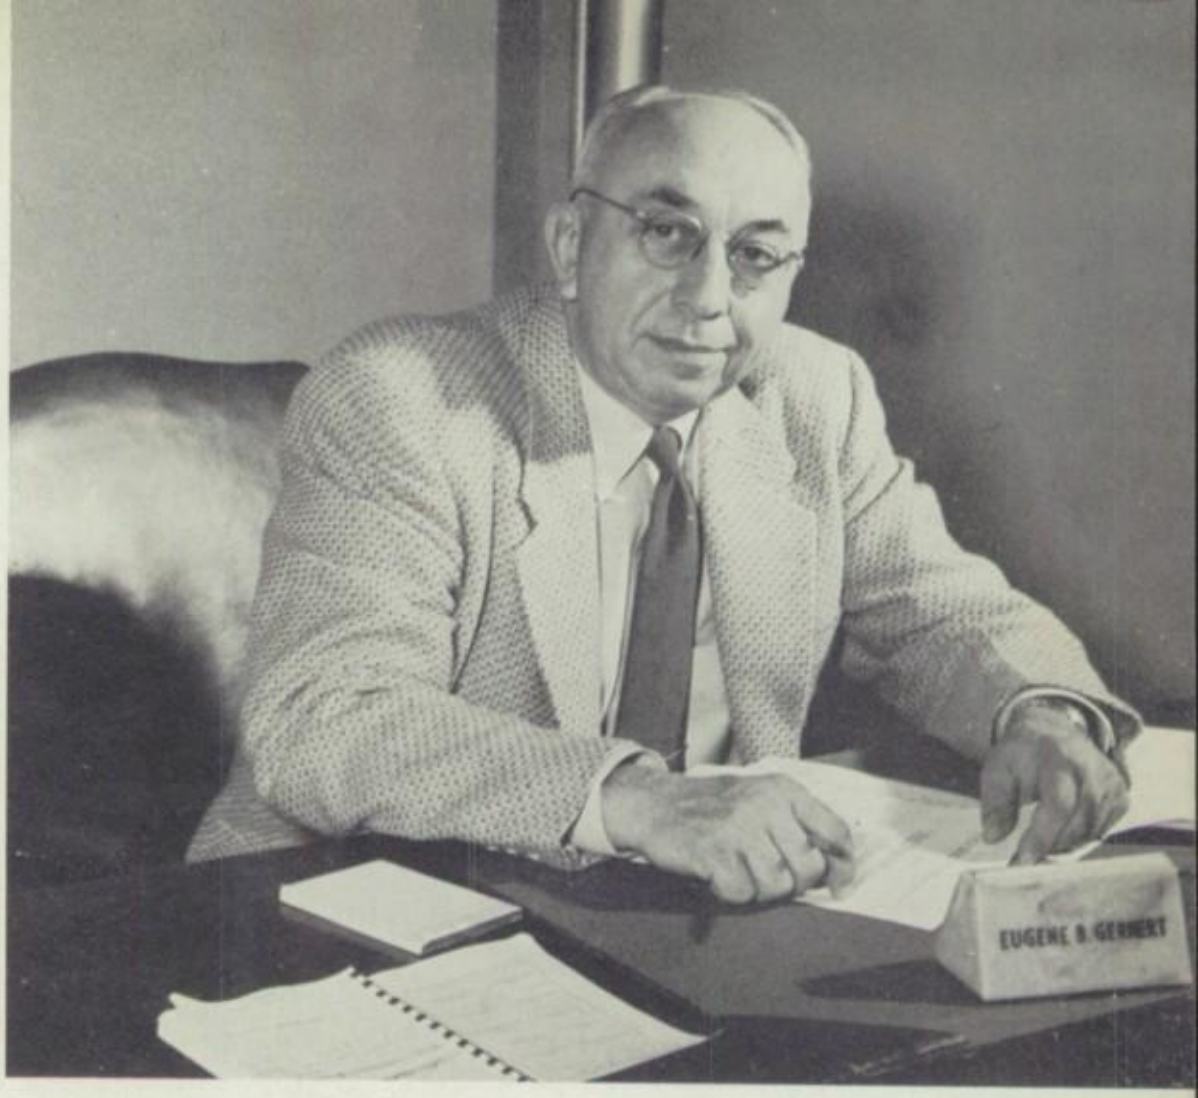
The backbone of Abington, like any institution of learning, is its academic staff and service personnel. Keeping a friendly eye on our interests and welfare were the supervising principal and principal who provided the leadership that helped make Abington a school of which we are justly proud.



Mr. Gernert as a man understood our problems; as a friend willingly listened to them, and as a principal often helped us find a solution to many of them.

E. B. Gernert

In his long, faithful service to the youth and citizens of Abington Township, E. B. Gernert, who resigned as principal May 13, has shown exceptional ability as an administrator. Under his leadership, our high school has risen to its place among the best schools of the state. In state and national meetings, Mr. Gernert has represented our school and our township so capably that the reputation of Abington Senior High School has spread throughout the country. That fine leadership we shall sadly miss.

In his relations with students, faculty, and parents, Mr. Gernert has been at all times both friendly and fair, winning the liking and respect of both the students and teachers. The excellent discipline of the school has won the commendation of all schoolmen. Curriculum improvement, club program, athletics, community relations, better school equipment, unusually high scholastic standing all of these have, under his leadership, given our high school a top rating among high schools.

Students, teachers, and citizens sincerely regret losing Mr. Gernert as principal at this critical point in the history of the high school. All feel a deep gratitude and loyalty to him for his untiring, unselfish, and excellent service as both teacher and principal. To him go our best wishes for many more years of community activity and personal happiness.

Mr. Gernert, a fine man as well as a capable principal, has given us, during his thirty years of service, the benefits of his understanding, sympathy, and untiring efforts. His ambition has been for the good of the students and the school. Abington won't be the same without him.

Gordon Biddle
President of the Student Council

Mr. Gernert has been an able adviser and friend to all Abington High School students. He has never been too busy to listen to a pupil's problem, no matter how trivial. Because of this, many students brought their personal problems to him. It is this friendly atmosphere around school and his forthrightness that students appreciate and value. Deep in the hearts of all loyal Abingtonians will remain the memory of a dynamic leader, a great principal, and a true friend.

Chip Archer
President of the Key Club

As we look back upon the traditions of Abington, we will cherish memories of Mr. Gernert, who inspired, challenged, and guided us. We recall, too, with special warmth, those times when he was no longer "principal" and we were not "students" but friends. We regret that he may not be present at our graduation.

Walter H. Young, Jr.
President of the Senior Class

As we, the Class of '55, have studied, served, and socialized, Mr. Gernert's excellent guidance has been significant to us. He has never been too busy to listen to our problems or share our desires. He has made us want to miss that three o'clock bus to stay for co-curricular activities. We have played on the teams and published our works, but behind us has been his ever-encouraging smile and word of praise. We owe him many unspoken but strongly felt thanks.

They Also Serve

Ready with thermometer or a word of advice, Miss Riley keeps an eye on student health.

Mr. Northam heard more tales of woe with a sympathetic ear and with a smile than perhaps even our parents. Patiently he smoothed out the bumps, big or small, with his good humor and often turned a major problem into one that might soon be forgotten.

Coach Schneller, Coach Carroll.

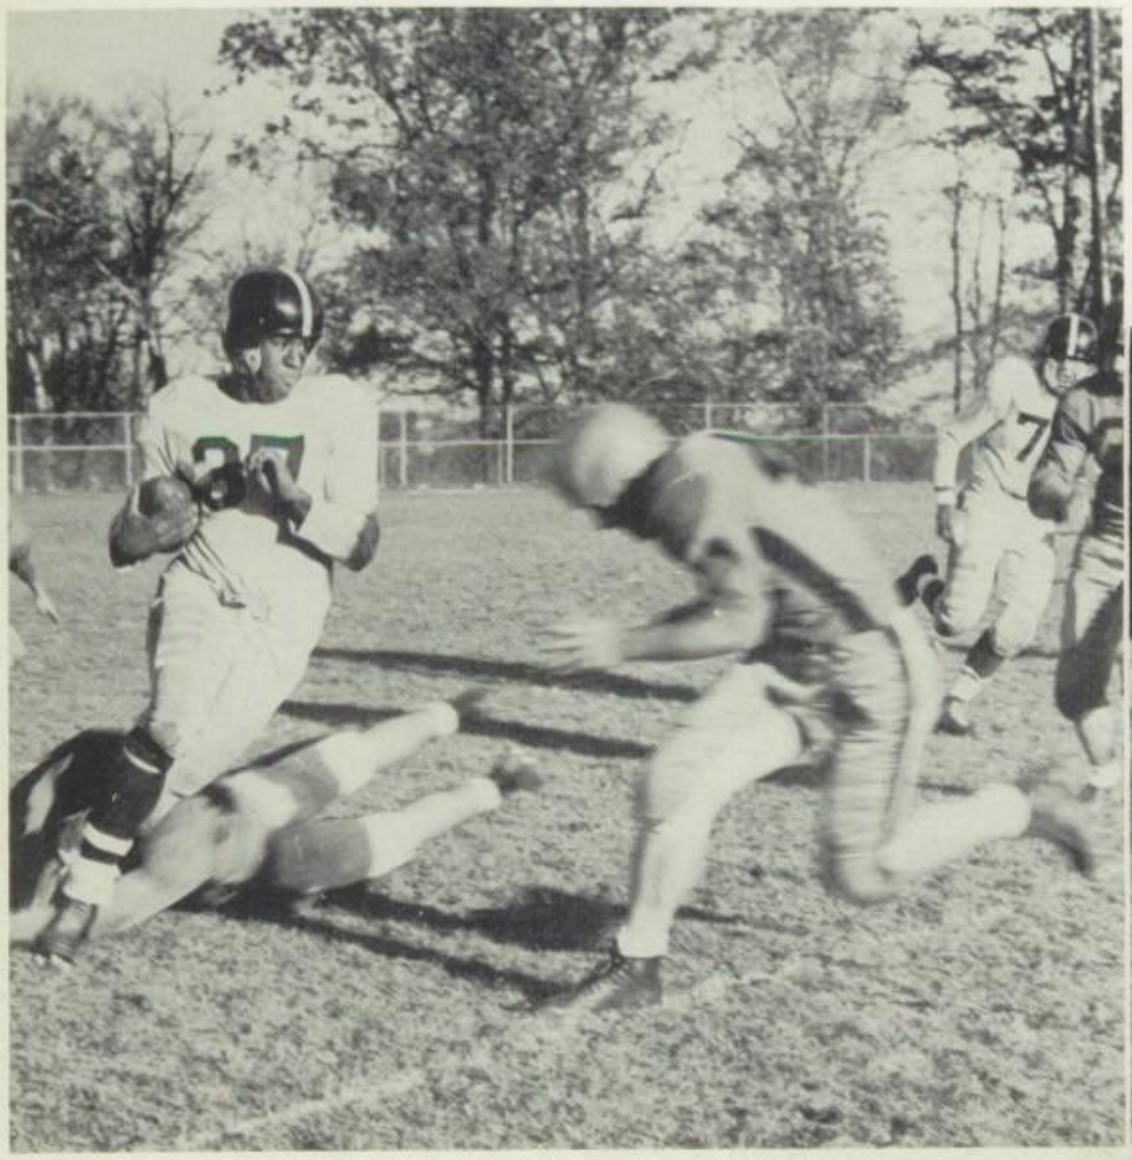
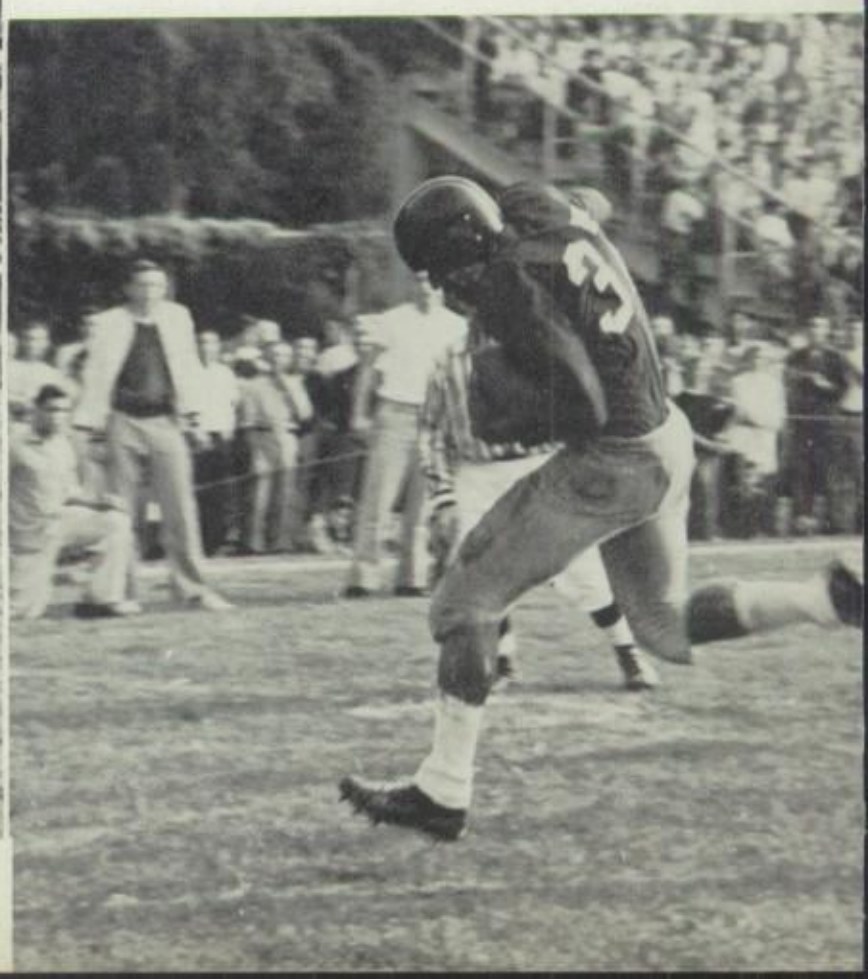
Gridmen Win 7, Lose 1

Starting on Chester's 50-yard stripe for the first of two TDs, Rollie West takes a handoff and skirts the end in the opening quarter.



Going into the second half with a 0-14 score, Abington reaches the Lower Merion 1-yard line after a sustained drive. Rollie (37) grabs the handoff from Steve Murray and streaks toward the goal line as teammates Clarke Ivins and Dick Barber give him passing time.



West Scores 21 TD's

Because of the winning streak of the 1953 squad, Head Coach Carroll and Assistants — Schneller, Pawling and Smith — favored the T formation, which proved highly successful. The Ghosts racked up 242 points against their opponents' 59 to compile a record of 7 wins and 1 loss.

Rollie West with his smooth ball handling and running proved to be an ace left halfback for the T. Taking his aerials were George Long and Gordon Biddle, ends. The forward wall consisted of tackles, Clarke Ivins and Dick Barber; guards, Robert Brosso and Paul Magra; center, "Chip" Archer; backs, Dom Ventresca, "Sugar" Dennis, Steve Murray, and "Duke" Young. Assisting in these positions were ends, Tom DeFlavis, Peter Budd, and Sam Washington; tackles, Tony Simonetta and Carl Holmes; guards, Harry Love and Dick Zadick; and backs, Ray Marino, Dave Young and Jim Gentry.

In their opening clash the Ghosts spurred on by the fine playing of Dom Ventresca met the Golden Bears who were trampled under foot.

Two weeks later saw the Carrollmen under the arc lights hold Haverford to a scoreless defeat.

With eleven wins to their credit the Maroon and White gridders lost a hard-fought battle to Lower Merion who tallied twice to salt away the suburban "A" title.

Rebounding quickly from defeat, Rollie West and Company, which included three-year varsity men "Sugar" Dennis and "Duke" Young, trounced the Royals.

In the weeks following Maroon Meteor, Rollie West, led in a 28-point spree over the Chester Clippers. The Eagles never got off the ground.

Closing the season the gridders, captained by Clarke Ivins, overwhelmed their York Road rivals, the Panthers of Cheltenham, whose claws were clipped early in the game.

Just as Ventresca (36) started lugging the pigskin on the 15-yard line, the Cheltenham Panthers came charging in to stop a long run.

Booters Pace Haverford

Sparked by senior booters — Wayne Smith, Captain Walter Pickwell, John Ross, William Thompson, and John House — the Ganttmen after a slow start rolled up surprising victories over Upper Darby, Haverford, and Cheltenham, powerful league contenders.

Walter Pickwell, selected by his teammates as the receiver of the Alumni most-valuable player award, was high scorer. Also, he, Wayne Smith, John Ross and William Thompson made the All-Suburban squad.

Eligible for next year's eleven first string will be Lou and Lee Lawver, James and John McElgin, Bruce Eitzen, Leonard Guenther, George King, Thomas Leonard, and Hall McKinny under Coach Gantt and Assistant Coach Beaver.

Harriers Take Eight

Led by the fleet-footed Edward Hotham, the harriers completed an exciting season by winning eight meets in sixteen starts. After a rocky beginning, Zeke's boys rounded into form and showed great promise by galloping over their last three opponents.

With twenty-three schools competing in the Annual Cobbs Creek District Meet on October 29, Edward Hotham, Richard Clark, and Richard Engelbrink placed fourth, eighth, and tenth, an effort no other school could equal. Eligible were they for the States Meet on November 6, where Ed finished seventeenth.

In the Marcus Hook Invitation Meet on November 11 in competition with seven other schools, Edward Hotham placed first in the mile, breaking the previous record. His time was 12:35. Individually, others who placed were Clark, fifth, and Engelbrink, sixth. The team took third.

Hockeyettes Topple Springfield

Under the tutelage of their new coach, Miss Jane Oswald, the spirited hockeyettes showed a final log of three wins, three losses, and two ties.

Highlighting the season was the important Springfield clash. In the drizzling rain and snow of November 3, a determined Maroon and White eleven, showing excellent team work, dimmed the Blue and Grey's chance for an undefeated season.

Graduation will claim tricky halfback Barbara Fenstermacher, captain and center forward June Starke, staunch fullback Mally Holmes, speedy wing Barbara Ulmer, and Manager Jane Mussina.

Ghostettes Post Five and Two Record

Climaxing a fairly successful campaign, the ghostettes held a record of five wins and two losses. Even though defeated in the opening game by the powerful Upper Moreland sextet 30-43. Coach Oswald's girls came fighting back to win the next three games; Ambler 29-26, Norristown 21-16, and Lower Moreland 57-42. The scrappers dropped to their rival, Cheltenham, 36-42 but got back in the win column the last two games with victories over Jenkintown 41-19 and Springfield 34-27.

Liz McMeekin, high scorer, tallied 95 points while Judy Gimpel posted 85. The Junior Varsity also won five and lost two.

Playing their last season for Abington were Ann Beeson, Anna Smith, Dorry Campbell, Priscilla Uhler, Pattie Wallace, Junior Varsity captain, and Rose Ryan, Varsity captain.

Janice Young, J.V. forward, reaches high above her guard for goal. Connie Cunningham moves in for the rebound.

Cagers End With 14-5 Mark

Led by Rollie West, who scored 373 points, the Fegleymen finished their season with a 14 and 5 record, beating Upper Darby, Cheltenham, and Haverford in both tilts. Lower Merion and Norristown bowed in the initial round but came back strong in the second half to plunder the injury-ridden Ghosts. The fifth loss was to the Railsplitters of Lincoln.

In losing to Chester, the cagers, supported by excellent community and school enthusiasm, did themselves proud as they came within one field goal of the Clippers. Good school spirit prevailed throughout one of the basketeers' finest seasons.

As a team the Ghosts had 447 field goals and 223 fouls for 1217 points, averaging 62.9 per game. They also made 41.2 per cent of their shots from the floor.

The hardwooders will lose six stalwarts — Hansford, Smith, Biddle, Pickwell, West, and Young — by graduation.

With a five and two record, Cunicelli, Zimmerman, Bannak and Long sparked the grapplers into second place behind a strong Upper Darby. The matmen's only two losses came at the hands of Lansdowne and Upper Darby.

The Ghosts sent Zimmerman and Long to the Regionals where they finished third and second respectively. A knee injury prevented Cunicelli from participating in these matches.

Mermaids Place Fifth in Districts

Although the mermaids had an unimpressive scoring season, their teamwork and cooperation were excellent. Barbara Bitting, undefeated throughout the year, took first honors with her diving at the P. I. A. A. Districts on March 19. Others who placed were Sandra Warntz, Betty J. Robinson, Captain Cynthia Scholly, and Jeanne Mahon to win a fifth place for the team as a whole.

Seniors who have swum their last for the Maroon and White are Gail Clement, Betty J. Robinson, Cynthia Scholly, Kay Krewson, Linda Meigs, Jeanne Mahon, Jone Funk, Barbara Bitting, Jean Ritsert, Marguerite Parkes, Mally Holmes, and Barbara Ulmer.

Captain-elect for 1956 is Lynda Button.

Barbara Bitting executes the championship form which brought her the District One diving title and an undefeated season.

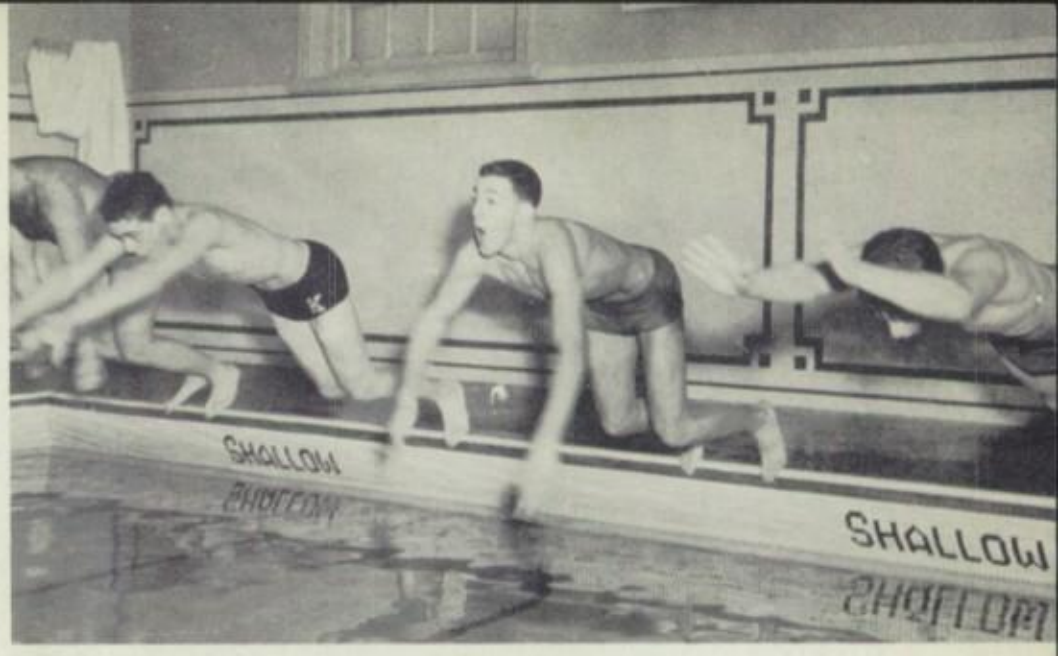
B. J. Robinson and Captain Cyndy Scholly give George School a rough time in the 50-yard butterfly.

DeFlavis Sets Regional Record

The tankmen highlighted their season with the performance of Tom DeFlavis in the District, Regional, and State Championship Meets. In addition to setting District and Regional records in the 150-yard medley, Tom went on to become the only District I winner in the State Championships. He also won the District 50-yard free style.

Co-captain with DeFlavis was Russ McAlpine, who also qualified in the Districts, Regionals and placed fifth in the States.

The team record of seven wins, seven losses is the best Pawling's Paddlers have had in several years. The mermen defeated Mastbaum 47-23, Lincoln 55-20, Eddystone 40-33, and 52-23, Cheltenham 48-27 and 38-27 and Camden Vocational 43-32. In the loss column were those to P. S. Dupont 25-50, George School 34-41, Norristown 30-45 and 32-43, Westown 34-40 and 26-49, Germantown Academy 32-43. In the District, Regional, and State meets the boys placed third, sixth and ninth respectively.



A. Lieber and P. Abramson on the right poised for race with Cheltenham's breast strokers, Goldenburg and Adler. Although the team won the meet, J. Adler, second from the left, took this 100-yard event.

Tom DeFlavis and Russ McAlpine, co-captains, placed first and fifth respectively in the 150-yard medley in the State Championship Meet, held at State University on March 12.

Diamondeers Fight For Ten

In their opening six starts the Ghosts downed Penn Charter 1-0, Central and Upper Moreland 2-1, Germantown 6-1, Lincoln 4-0, and George School 13-3. However, the Erbmen bowed to Chester, their first league opponent, 0-4. After the Chester tilt, Walt Pickwell sported the highest batting average .384, based on ten or more times at bat. Duke Young and Wayne Smith maintained an average of .303 while first baseman Brosso had a .500 average with four for eight.

Coach Erb faced great problems in teaching his proteges the techniques of more efficient baserunning, hitting, pitching, and fielding. A mastery of these fine points resulted in a better scoring record in the remaining games of the twenty-three that were originally scheduled. Leading league contenders who offered the greatest opposition for our hard-hitting diamondeers were Upper Darby and Cheltenham.

Spikesmen Set Winning Pace

The cindermen opened their season with Hatboro on April 15. Outstanding participants were Ed Hotham and Dick Cagno. Supplementing them were Joe Foley, running the 440; John Manning, the 880 and 440; and Dick Schmauk the 220 and 440. Other leading contenders were Hurdlers, Barclay Tagg and Mike Gillespie, and Broad Jumper, Bobbie Freed.

Following the Hatboro meet, the trackmen participated in meets with Lincoln, George School, Penn Charter, Easton, and Cheltenham.

Other scheduled events were the Lower Merion and the Penn Relays and the Suburban and District Championships.

Netmen Post 6-6 Record

Swinging for another outstanding record, Mike Drought and Steve Rhoads, varsity singles, sparked this year's team. Supporting them were singles, Pete Cranston and Lou Lawver, as well as doubles Lee Lawver, John Clement, Charles Ruzicka, and Steve Jones.

Coach Stanis, who previously coached girls' tennis, piloted the boys to a successful season in their thirteen starts. Following the opening match with Central on April 13, the court battlers met Lincoln, Haverford, Cheltenham, Norristown, Yeadon, Upper Darby, Penn Charter, Lansdowne, Radnor, George School, Springfield, and Lower Merion.

Maids Show 6-5 Talley

Led by singles – Priscilla Uhler, Connie Cunningham, and Ann Harper – and doubles – Charlotte Gentry, Barbara Motson, Joan Schmidt, and Brenda Beatty – this year's team had high hopes of compiling a record comparable to that of the past high-scoring battlers.

Under Coach Oswald the girls, after facing Haverford for their opening match on April 18, met Jenkintown, Cheltenham, Norristown, and Berwyn in succession.

This group worked diligently as they went into the last of the season against Upper Darby, Lansdowne, Radnor, Springfield (Del. Co.), and Lower Merion.

Returning members — Lois Crabtree, Margaret Pinder, Rose Ryan, Elizabeth McMeekin, and Mabel Reynolds — made up the nucleus of Miss Herzog's softball squad.

Elizabeth McMeekin and Gwen Wunderle mounted the mound with Nancy Krewson behind the plate. Mabel Reynolds, Janet Bockrath, and Judith Gimpel filled the infield positions while Lois Crabtree, Rose Ryan, and Margaret Pinder covered the outfield.

The seven-game schedule included games with Jenkintown, Lansdowne, Ambler, Lower Moreland, Cheltenham, Friends Select and Upper Moreland.

Par Busters Show Promise

Rounding the links as potential par busters for the Maroon and White were the tee men — Harry Love, John Ross, David Bourne, Douglas Brandon, Jeffrey Hughes, Ray Marino, John Mussina, and George Royle — under mentor E. A. Brunner.

Handicapped by the fact that there were only two returning lettermen, Harry Love and John Ross, the squad made commendable scores in their meets with Berwyn, Cheltenham, Penn Charter, Lower Merion, Norristown, and Central.

Through the generosity of the Huntingdon Valley Country Club officials, the squad was able to use their excellent greens for practice.

Coach Brunner, H. Love, J. Hughes, J. Mussina, J. Ross, D. Brandon, D. Borne, R. Marino, and G. Royle pose before leaving for Huntingdon Valley greens for a round of nine holes.

Clarkmen Capture Five

In a see-saw beginning Dave Clark's marksmen lost two of their first three meets to Upper Darby and Lower Merion by scores of 487-499 and 487-493 respectively. Before losing to Lower Merion the shooters downed Quakertown 495-491. Then the Clarksmen began a winning streak of three, topping Doylestown 495-491, West Catholic 489-488 and Yeadon 494-487. However, a journey to Glen-Nor ended this brief streak as the Ghosts bowed by seven points, 489-496. The marksmen scored their final victory over Prospect Park, 495-492.

In a seasonal team average of 490, James Cherry maintained an individual average of 98.5 points per match. Also he placed fourth in the Suburban Philadelphia Championship and fifth in the Southeastern Pennsylvania Championship. Furey, Cherry, Mesaros, and Beatty shot perfect scores.

Tutored Tooters

Amid a blast of cheers, they swung smoothly down the football field to display their talents and long-practiced formations. Active during the entire year, they opened many pep rallies and marched in several parades, among them the Jenkintown Christmas parade.

Through the fine efforts of their parents and members of the community the entire band sported exceedingly attractive uniforms at the Spring Concert.

Pass in Review

Paving the way for the band among the cheering fans were the color guard, majorettes, flag twirlers, and the drill team. With colorful uniforms, perky hats, and intricate formations they dazzled the spectators in every event in which they participated. Moreover, they presented a picture of dignity as the national anthem was played.

Many compliments were paid them following their appearance in the miracle of the century, television.

Looking into the crystal ball theirs is a future of success, prizes, and even a finer band.

Student Council

Mr. Fegley, guidance counselor, monitors group discussion on fraternities and sororities.

Student Council activities began with the planning of the Pennsylvania Student Council Association's eighteenth convention at Abington.

In addition, the group continued its sponsorship of the dances familiarly known as Open Houses, and provided us with service in the school store, the Dog House, and the Affiliation Club. Other activities include a faculty tea, Thanksgiving contributions from AHS to Abington Hospital, a party and gifts for the elderly residents of Christ's Home, and decorations of the hallway at Christmas time.

Other Student Council projects included participating in exchange-school programs, providing decorations for the formal dance of the National Convention at Lower Merion, helping teachers prepare for school in September, procuring Mr. Requa Bell of Jenkintown as speaker at the Student Council installation ceremonies, passing the "proper dress" resolution, and revising the AHS Council's constitution to change election procedures.

During the summer, Gordon Biddle, along with sponsors — Mrs. Edna S. Powell, Mrs. Evelyn Lenner, and Miss Helen M. Clark — attended the National Student Council Convention in Minnesota. In August, Gordon and Jack Maisch represented Abington at the summer workshop for Student Council leaders at Penn State. Harry Love will be a discussion leader at the National Student Council Convention at Lower Merion this June.

Gail Smith, the first student selected to represent Abington in our affiliate, the Lily Braun Schule, directs attention to coming events on the (Litsfaszsaule) local billboard fashioned around the electric cable.

Host Delegates to Annual Convention

As host to the Eighteenth Annual Pennsylvania Association of Student Councils' Convention, beginning October 14 and lasting three days, Abington welcomed more than 450 delegates from about 150 schools.

The administration, faculty, and the entire student body helped President Gordon A. Biddle, Jr., and advisers — Miss Helen M. Clark, Mrs. Edna S. Powell, and Mrs. Evelyn O. Lenner — to organize the convention around the theme "Service Is the Keynote of Citizenship."

After registration, sightseeing, dinner, and an organ recital by Fred Epting of '56, Student Council members and advisers on Thursday night heard the well-known educator, Dr. Althea Kratz Hottel, deliver the keynote address.

Following the Friday group discussions and problem clinics, the uninvited delegate, Hurricane "Hazel," did not disrupt too much the banquet nor the dance.

Grateful delegates expressed their thanks with, "Our delegates appreciated the welcome they received, the fine manner in which all the activities were conducted, and the worthwhile suggestions they brought back."

In all these activities, the Student Council has spread good will and spirit throughout the school.

The A Cappella Choir Makes Beautiful the Sacred of Christmas

Margy Risko and Gail Pfahler send greetings to their classmates.

"Presenting the Abington High School A Cappella Choir under the direction of J. Mervin Gottshall" are familiar words to many civic groups and church organizations for whom these students perform each year.

The Choir's busy schedule this year included school assembly programs, exchange programs with other schools, and various Christmas and Easter programs throughout the area. Four choir members — Jack Maisch, Lois Crabtree, Myrna Meacham, and Barbara Fenstermacher — represented Abington, February 10 to 12, at the District Chorus in Oxford, Pennsylvania.

Concluding the busy season was the Spring Festival held May 5 and 6.

Aided by an active staff consisting of many sophomores and juniors, were the Abingtonian editors — Joan Feldman, Dorothy Towle, Ruth Huss, Arlene Gilbert, Carmela Galluccio and Brenda Beatty.

Further aiding in literary activities at Abington, Dorothy Cathell and Allan A. Glatthorn contributed a great deal of their time advising co-editors, Kent Johnson and Marilyn Busch and their able staff in putting out an outstanding magazine, the Oracle, known for its abundance of clever articles, short stories, poetry, and art work.

Oracle Staff Records Traditional Traits

You are Abington High School. You help to foster these qualities — school spirit, sportsmanship, leadership, and integrity — which have made our Alma Mater a school of which we can be justly proud. With this concept in mind, the staff set to work to produce another prize-winning Oracle, one of the most widely circulated publications. Under the guidance of Miss Haldeman, the staff worked especially hard to record the way you worked, played, and made friends. The editorial staff worked hard writing senior personalities, checking dummies, proofing copy, and composing captions. The typists and art students, too, have contributed many hours of their time. Moreover, the business staff diligently sought ads. Through it all everyone has experienced true teamwork and that feeling commonly known as school spirit.

HANDBOOK COMMITTEE

Seated: L. Tart, B. Andrews, L. Lawver. Standing: E. Porter, M. Adams, C. Menten.

The Junior Fourth Estate sends every week both stories and photos of high school functions and activities to ten local and suburban newspapers. Special news features and sports flashes are sent also to the three city newspapers.

Because of the illness of Miss Mary Grace Ambler, the Director of Public Relations, her work as adviser for the J4E was continued by Mrs. Betty Gray. J4E Managing Editors, Margy Risko and Richard Miller, are assisted by a board of nine editors.

The Handbook Staff is a committee selected from the Junior Fourth Estate. Its purpose is to revise the student handbook of the previous year so that it is up-to-date on school procedures and offerings. There are six members on the staff including co-editors Barbara Andrews and Lee Lawver.

J4E.

The Broad Wings of Imagination

Curtsies and bows contrast charleston.

Tony tries hard, but Carol has other ideas.

Betsy and Janice come to life exhibiting form and grace.

Feet fly as Hi-Fi Rhythmettes wow the guys.

Star With Gala Night

Three Little Women step out of fiction onto the stage.

"Make Mine Gala Night" rings out as Debby, Janice, and the mixed octet join voices.

"Four Merry Gents" serenade Lynne while strolling through the park.

Integrity

. . . that soundness of character . . . freedom from deceit . . . veracity . . . ascendancy over cheap disobedience . . . fidelity to the standards of Abington . . . regard for the advantages of others as for our own . . . absolute strength in matters of honor . . . which shall mold the life of each one of us . . . shall make one's word as good as his bond . . . shall bring together the parts into the whole . . . to make Abingtonians strive for all that is fine . . . stand straight and know that the world will not have to fear us . . . know that the world can benefit by our being.

Food and fellowship follow National Honor Society installation ceremony during which Richard McFeely, principal of George School, stated: "The bluntest instrument of all is a blunt mind."

National Honor Society

Abington is proud of its many fine traditions, but it is equally proud to inaugurate new ideas and to expand its program to meet the ever increasing needs of youth.

In September, a committee chaired by Mrs. Lenner began to study scholarship recognition in Abington. They sought information not only from the faculty but also from outstanding schools in suburban Philadelphia and more distant places. Their recommendation to form a chapter of the National Honor Society was adopted. In April, the High School was awarded charter No. 5604.

Among the honored guests at the installation services on May 13 were students from Haverford High School who acquainted us with the four qualifications – scholarship, character, leadership, and service.

At this service Mr. Gernert administered the oath and Mr. Richard McFeely, Principal of George School, fittingly addressed the assembly.

Following this was a tea for the newly elected members, their parents, and the faculty.

Principal E. B. Gernert administers the oath to the new members after they have been called forward by Assistant Principal M. Edward Northam. Seniors to be admitted to the society are Judith Adams, Jane Ambacher, Arlene Arleth, Gordon Biddle, Marilyn Busch, Minerva DeWalt, Barbara Fenstermacher, Nancy Friedrich, Arlene Gilbert, Joan Girton, Ruth Huss, Richard Lowrey, Joan Lyle, Russell McAlpine, Joan Norman, William Owen, Gail Partridge, Margie Risko, Ross Ritter, Betty Jane Robinson, Joan Schmidt, Carol Snellenburg, Janet Spence, Nancy Staudinger, Dorothy Towle, Barbara Ulmer, Walter Young, and Barbara Walls. Juniors to be admitted to the society are Barbara Andrews, Marliese Braetinger, Alferd Cox, Maria Denver, Warren Heiss, Harry Heist, Sidney Homan, Steve Jones, Karen Lawson, Harry Love, Joan Munroe, Suzanne Pierce, Edwinna Porter, Joy Reber, John Rupp, Lynn Shaffer, Allan Smith, Betsy Spaulding, and Barbara Woodward.

This hilarious comedy, directed by Miss Lemmert and Mr. Gantt and presented by members of the Senior Class on December third and fourth, depicted Cornelia Skinner, the daughter of the noted American actor, Otis Skinner, and Emily Kimbrough on an ocean trip to Paris. Despite the frequent intrusions of the tip-grabbing steward and the English girls, Winifred and Harriet, the travelers had an enjoyable cruise until the day before landing when Cornelia came down with the measles. However, with the help of the two young

Audiences Laugh Our Hearts Were

"I'll just lead a drab, dreary bourgeois life. Just a cog in a wheel," Cornelia proclaims dramatically as she bemoans her failure to attain the acting standards of the mercenary French actor, Monsieur de la Croix, who, along with Cornelia's parents, Emily, the hostess of the inn, and the jovial window cleaner, observes her acting carefully.

medics, Dick Winters and Leo McEvoy, Cornelia succeeded in getting past the Admiral, in reality the leader of the ship's band, and the brusque health inspector.

Once in the country what unique experiences were theirs. Neither would forget "Cardinal Richeliu's bed," a bath tub that might explode, and a French actor who cruelly crushed all Cornelia's dreams of a stage career. Finally the girls left France for the trip homeward, full of nostalgic memories of a marvelous trip.

Emily hastily discloses to Cornelia, Dick, Leo, and the two complacent English lassies, Harriet and Winifred, that she has just killed a man!

Betwixt the Bottom and the Top

As juniors we were the class which could no longer play the part of innocence nor boast of superiority. It was up to us to get into the swing of things. This it might be said we did in May 1954. After a close election, Richard Schmauk was elected president; Joseph Foley, vice-president; Harry Heist, treasurer; and Joy Reber, secretary.

Upon returning to school in September the class was well represented in various activities. In Student Council Steve Jones and Harry Love took an active part. In publications was Brenda Beatty, sports page editor, as well as Staff Writers B. Woodward, J. Monroe, W. Link, M. Denver, D. Saalfrank, and B. Mackleer. In J4E most notable were Lou and Lee Lawver who covered sports. Allan Smith and Leslie Duer were active in Forum activities.

Of course, Gala Night enrolled many. Included was the well known boys' quartet — M. Lieber, T. Whitefield, A. Cox, and H. McKinny. Others were M. Denver, C. Riley, C. Corbett, R. Turnbull, N. Voltz, W. Malone, as well as many chorines who helped to make Gala Night whirl.

Scholastically, consistently taking honors were Joan Creveling, JoAnn Hargrave, Allan Smith, Joan Monroe, Judith Wurst, Suzanne Pierce, Alfred Cox, Sidney Homan, Robert Esterling, Barbara Woodward, Marliese Braitinger, David Powers, and Harry Love.

In the sports world, special attention should be given Richard Barber, Steve Murray, Dominick Ventresca, George Long, Harry Love, Richard Clark, Richard Engelbrink, Nancy Krewson, Margaret Pinder, and Carol Starke.

At the close of the year we put on the gala affair, Searama.

Yes, whatever is needed to be a good senior, we will try to be.

Advisers — Miss Milne, Mr. Reitz, and Miss Haldeman — willingly gave much time and effort to make the Junior Prom, Searama, an outstanding dance.

Charlestons, waltzes, and jazz by the Stylers keep the Junior Prom lively.

Time out for a brief respite as Sophia Schrope slips into her shoes.

Dancers enjoy Jerry Stoltz, Carl Holmes, and Harold Yerkes playing Guitar Boogie.

Two Laps to Go

Although three hundred and seventy of us wandered aimlessly up and down the stairs and through the corridors that first day, AHS gradually became a part of our lives.

After being onlookers for a few short weeks, we offered our services, too. Those interested in working for the Abingtonian or some other publication were Theodore Rights, Edward Farkas, Frances Miller, William Clayton, and Marc Silverman.

Contributing their know-how to Forum activities were Edward Farkas, Walter Tappert, Nick Mullins, and Theodore Rights.

Scholastically those who frequently rated a spot on the honor roll were Constance Cunningham, Carol Ward, Barbara Gattiker, Theodore Rights, Fred McDowell, Rhoberta Engelbrink, Judith Goss, Mary Redstreake, Barbara Anderson, Carolyn Schaaf, Peter Kreisel, Edward Farkas, Walter Tappert and Elaine Gardiene.

Sportswise, Edward Rothenheber and Fred McDowell sprinted with the pack of cross country boys. Link amazed upperclass wrestlers as did Richard De Flavis, the tankman.

Most active were many of us in the eighth annual Gala Night production. Deborah Peltz and Janice Waters opened the show as heralds. Gwen Wunderle, James Mc Anally, Jane Orcutt, Sally Stitzinger, Patricia Wright, Dorothy Czarnecki, Joan Benus, Deborah Bushnell, Janet Drake, Gretchen Funk, Carl Holmes, Jerry Stoltz and Harold Yerkes, as well as others, helped to make a successful production.

In May, class officers were elected to serve for the coming year.

Looking ahead, we see a bright future for ourselves as up-and-coming jaunty juniors.

Let not mem'ries faded be
As we go o'er land and sea.
Alma Mater, all hail to thee,
Hail to Dear Old Abington.

The production of the Oracle requires more than the time and effort of the staff . . . to the many individuals who cooperated to make this book possible we extend our thanks . . . to Mr. Gernert, Mr. Northam, members of the faculty and student body who gave us these fine traditions . . . to Miss Milne and her art staff for many excellent illustrations . . . to Mr. Roberts and his business staff for their persistent efforts in securing advertisements . . . to our photographers, Zamsky Studios and their staff, for their many, many fine shots of activities and school life . . . to Mr. Worthington for underclassmen pictures . . . to Mr. Sidney C. Schultz and H. G. Roebuck and Son for their assistance whenever requested . . . to the typists for their willingness to type whenever needed . . . and to our advertisers without whose cooperation there could have been no Oracle.

TO WORK AT MURPHY'S

My name is Betty and I have a story which I think will interest many of you. It's about my experience in the retailing field. Believe me. Variety Store business is fast-moving and interesting. Each counter is a store in itself.

Here at Murphy's one learns retailing from the bottom up! I started out as an extra salesgirl, working every day after school. When I was graduated, I was fortunate to be placed in charge of a counter. I never knew how really interesting this work could be . . . it's just like having a shop of my own.

I'm growing here, taking more responsibility as I go. There's still more room for advancement . . . I can work myself into a position of merchandise buyer, section supervisor or bookkeeper in the office. Soon I hope to be selected to train for the job of Personnel Directress in a large new Murphy Store.

All of us at Murphy's have an equal chance to better ourselves. From what I can see Murphy's is tops in training . . . and there isn't a store in town to beat Murphy's on Employee benefits!

If you're ambitious to make a "go" of retailing, join the "Gang" at Murphy's soon as you can.
